THE COACHING STAFF

BOB SCHEFFING — Immediately after he signed to manage the Braves, Charlie Dressen went to work to complete his coaching staff. His first two choices were Bob Scheffing and George Myatt. In the likeable and hard-working Scheffing, the Braves acquired a man who will be able to handle a variety of assignments as designated by Skipper Dressen. A former major league catcher as well as manager with the Cubs, Bob will be of great value in working with the batterymen. He also knows the National League from top to bottom. During his big league career with the Cubs, Reds and Cardinals, he compiled a .263 lifetime batting average.

WHITLOW WYATT — Long regarded as one of the outstanding pitching authorities in baseball, the popular and hard-working Georgian is now serving his third season as the Braves' pitching coach. A former hurler with the Milwaukee Brewers, Whit chalked up 106 victories during his major league career with the Tigers, White Sox,

Indians and Dodgers. Before rejoining the Braves organization, which he had served as both a coach and manager at the Atlanta affiliate, Wyatt was the pitching coach for the Phillies from 1955 through 1957.

ANDY PAFKO — Undoubtedly one of the most popular and most capable players ever to wear a Braves' uniform, the Boyceville, Wisconsin "Old Pro" will now pass along his 17 years of major league experience to future Milwaukee stars. If any of these players turn out to be performers of Pafko's caliber, no one will realize more satisfaction than Andy himself. Even as an active player, Pafko was always helping some of his team-mates. He is looking forward to his new position in the game which he has been a part of since 1940 when he broke in with Eau Claire. Selected four times to the All Star team, Andy played with the Cubs and Dodgers before joining the Braves in 1953.

GEORGE MYATT — Described by his new manager as "one of the most enthusiastic coaches I've ever seen on the bench," Myatt adds a great enthusiasm and baseball savvy to the Milwaukee Club. In addition to working with the infielders, George will concentrate on the base running of each and every member of the team. During his active career he was regarded as one of the game's outstanding runners. Prior to joining the Braves, George served as coach with the Cubs from 1957 through 1959, the White Sox in 1955 and 1956 and the Senators from 1950 through 1954.

MEET THE SKIPPER

One of the game's most capable and most colorful personalities, CHARLES WALTER "CHUCK" DRESSEN, is starting his first season at the helm of the Milwaukee Braves. When Dessen was named to manage the Braves last October, Milwaukee obtained a man long regarded as one of baseball's outstanding figures.

When the managerial vacancy with the Braves occurred, General Manager John McHale stated, "We will go after the outstanding man available to fill this position." When he announced the signing of Chuck, the Braves G.M. said, "We know that in Chuck Dessen we have accomplished our original aim which was to sign the top man available."

Born September 20, 1898 at Decatur, Illinois, Dessen has been a part of baseball since 1919 when he started his playing career with the Moline Club of the Three I League. In 1925, he reached the big leagues and held down the third base job with the Cincinnati Reds through part of the 1931 campaign. He later saw service with the New York Giants in 1933.

After managing Nashville in the Southern Association, he returned to Cincinnati in 1934 as the team's manager, a position he retained through 1937. He later piloted the Brooklyn Dodgers to a pair of pennants in 1952 and 1953 and his last managerial position prior to coming to Milwaukee was with the Washington Senators in 1956 and 1957. During the past two seasons he served as a coach with the Dodgers. Charlie and Mrs. Dessen make their home in Los Angeles.

BRAVESVILLE

Home of Future Milwaukee Braves

The Milwaukee Braves mammoth farm system spring training camp at Waycross, Georgia has been given a new identity for the 1960 training period and will henceforth be known as "Bravesville". It is here that many club officials, scouts and minor league managers gather each spring to train and instruct the great majority of Milwaukee's farmhands.

Bravesville, under the direction of Administrative Assistant Austin Brown and Assistant Farm Director Roland Hemond, who work together with General Manager John McHale and Farm Director John Mullen, is almost a community in itself. Over 250 individuals are on hand during most of the seven weeks the camp is in operation from early March until late April and practically every need or convenience for all personnel can be found on the reservation. There are five "tepees" or barracks which serve as living quarters, a cafeteria, an official's "tepee", a combined office and recreation "tepee" and a clubhouse. For workouts, there are five baseball diamonds, several batting cages with automatic pitching machines, a sliding pit, a running track, warmup areas for pitchers and catchers and "pepper game" areas.

Recreational facilities include movies, ping-pong tournaments, shuffleboard courts, horseshoe pits and a juke box.

Prior to the opening of training this spring, one of the five diamonds available for daily games and workouts was dedicated as "Coleman Field" in memory of Bob Coleman, who served the organization for many years as both a manager of the parent club as well as the farm system and until his death as a special assignment scout. In time to come, the remaining diamonds will also be named on a similar basis.

There is little doubt that the Braves decision in 1949 to group-train their farm affiliates from class-A to D has proved to be one of the most important factors in the success enjoyed by the Braves since moving from Boston to Milwaukee in 1953.

"We felt that by gathering together our younger players and subjecting them to scrutiny by as many managers and scouts as possible, we could give each player the opportunity to play with the highest club equivalent to his ability and maybe cut a year or more off the time it takes him to reach the Milwaukee club," John Mullen, Milwaukee Farm Director explained. "Also, with over 200 players in camp, we are able to play five games at one time and from the top of a rotunda situated in the center of the diamond area our scouts and managers can view any player in any game by a simple turn of the head. With a setup of this type, we never have a lack of exhibition game practice, as do most clubs which train alone."

The results of this type of training program have been tremendous. Thirteen players presently training with the Braves made the "Reservation" an important stepping stone to the big leagues in the seven years the camp has been in operation: outfielders Hank Aaron, Wes Covington, Lee Maye, Al Spangler and Bob Taylor; infielders Mel

Roach and Chuck Cottier; and pitchers Juan Pizarro, Vic Rehm, Don Nottebart, Winston Brown, Ron Piche and Tony Diaz. In addition, eight players not on the Braves roster, but training with the parent club this spring, have spent time at Waycross. They are hurlers Bobby Hendley, Claude Raymond, Tony Cloninger, Denver Lemaster and Larry Maxie, catcher Ron Henry, infielder Denis Menke and outfielder Howie Bedell.

The camp was held at Myrtle Beach, S. C. for four years before being moved to Waycross and Myrtle Beach products included infielders Frank Torre, Johnny Logan and Felix Mantilla, outfielder Billy Bruton and Pitchers Bob Buhl, Don McMahon and Carl Willey.

"We feel that our decision to group-train in 1949 has paid big dividends and will continue to do so in the future," Mullen stated. "In the last eleven years, the Braves have finished in the second division only once and, during each of the past six years, Braves' farm clubs won more pennants than any other major league farm system.

Camping at "Bravesland" this spring will be the following clubs: Austin, Jacksonville, Cedar Rapids, Eau Claire, Boise, Quad-Cities and Wellsville.

If you have yet to visit "Bravesland" — do so. You will find it most worthwhile and interesting.

49 BUTLER, Cecil Dean — Pitcher ... Austin Roster ... Born October 23, 1937 in Dallas, Georgia ... Resides in Dallas, Georgia ... Ht. 6:04 ... Wt. 195 ... Bats and throws right ... Signed by Felix Garrett ... Acquired through Atlanta working agreement ... Married ... Cecil's control was exceptional last season as he permitted only 29 bases on balls in 167 innings ... John Mullen gave Butler a tough assignment last spring after he had won 14 games for Waycross and made the 1958 Georgia-Florida All-Star team—that of making the big jump from class-D to class-A ... Cecil did not fail the Braves' Farm Director ... In fact, he was so impressive in fashioning a 3.23 earned run average that he was invited to do his spring conditioning with the parent club this year.

50 CLONINGER, Tony Lee — Pitcher ... Austin Roster ... Born August 13, 1940 in Lincoln, North Carolina ... Resides in Iron Station, North Carolina ... Ht. 6:00 ... Wt. 210 ... Bats and throws right ... Signed by Gil English ... Unmarried ... Nearly every big league club clamored for his services when he graduated from Rock Spring, North Carolina High School ... After signing with the Braves, he fanned 27 in 35 innings for Eau Claire before going to Midland where he won nine and lost two and struck out 87 in 83 innings ... He began the 1959 season with Cedar Rapids and, though he struck out 46 batters in 46 innings, he had trouble keeping his blazing fast ball over the plate and was sent to Boise ... He pitched brilliantly for the Pioneer League entry, setting a league record by pitching 31 consecutive scoreless innings, leading the loop with four shutouts and fanning 154 in 121 innings ... Tony thrives on work and he is one of the hardest workers in the Braves' organization ... His fast ball was one of the swiftest in the minor leagues last year and the 19 year old righthander is definitely one of the Tribe's finest prospects for future big league stardom ... He played winter ball for Bradenton in Florida Instructional Program.

As a rookie in professional baseball with Austin, Rick continued to garner honors as he became the first rookie player to be named to a Texas League All-Star team in the loop's history ... Last season, he had an even better year for the Senators, increasing his batting average from .242 to .273, his home run production from seven to 12 and his RBI's from 43 to 68 ... This improvement earned Rick a berth on the 1959 higher classification All-Star team selected by the National Association.

54 LEMASTER, Denver Clayton—Pitcher ... Austin Roster ... Born February 25, 1939 in Corona, California ... Resides in Camarillo, California ... Ht. 6:01 ... Wt. 185 ... Throws left and bats right ... Signed by Johnny Moore ... Married ... Denver was much more effective in his first full season last year than his 11-17 record with Jacksonville indicates ... He was especially effective on May 19th, when he fanned 19 Macon batters for the third best strikeout effort in South Atlantic League history ... Even more significant though, was the way in which the feat was accomplished ... All but two of the outs in the first five innings were strikeouts (he fanned two batters in each of the first two innings before retiring the side on K's the next three frames) ... His 11 consecutive strikeouts were a league record ... Incidentally, the Braves' Juan Pizarro is one of the only two hurlers in loop history to top Lemaster's fire-balling performance ... Juan had 20 strikeouts against Macon in 1956.

Signed by Johnny Moore ... Unmarried ... Prior to the Three-I League All-Star Game at mid-season last year, Larry had compiled one of the finest pitching records of any hurler in the minor leagues ... Though he slumped after seeing action in his loop's dream game, he still finished with a respectable 13-13 record with the last place Cedar Rapids Club ... He was off to a sensational start and received credit for seven of Cedar Rapids' first nine victories ... His 187 strikeouts led the loop ... He is built for work and his 206 innings pitched last season were only one short of the league leader ... He signed with the Braves in 1958 and spent the latter part of the summer with Eau Claire, where he won one and lost five while experiencing control trouble ... Fortunately, he showed marked improvement this past year.

33 BURDETTE, Lou — Pitcher ... 20-game winner for second consecutive season ... Has averaged 17 wins per season during the seven years the Braves have represented Milwaukee ... Walked only 38 batters in 290 innings last season for exceptional figure of 1.18 batters per nine innings ... Had fine pitching record against 1st division competition last season: Los Angeles (2-0), San Francisco (5-2) and Pittsburgh (4-1) ... Selected as pitcher on the UPI N.L. All-Star team ... His lifetime won-lost mark in senior circuit competition is fine 126-82 ... Besides leading the N.L.

36 MacKENZIE, Kenneth Purvis—Pitcher ... Louisville Roster ... Born March 10, 1934 in Gore Bay, Ontario, Canada ... Resides in Gore Bay ... Ht. 6:00 ... Wt. 180 ... Bats right and throws left ... Signed by Jeff Jones ... Married ... Ken graduated from Yale University in 1956 and then cast his lot with the Braves' organization ... His won-lost record was 14-6 and his ERA was 3.26 for 204 innings ... He walked only 64, fanned 147 and completed 10 games ... He opened the 1958 season with Wichita but got off to a slow start and was returned to Atlanta where he again captured 14 decisions ... Like Terry Fox, Ken was converted to relief for the 1959 season and, like Fox, he made the transition successfully ... As Manager Ben Geraghty's "short man" in relief, he worked in 51 games, winning six and losing only two ... He walked just 28 in 80 innings and fanned 52 while compiling a 3.83 ERA mark ... As a collegian at Yale, he pitched six victories over Harvard ... Ken played winter ball with the Estrella Club of the Dominican League.

Signed by Eddie Dancisak ... Unmarried ... Played winter ball with Bradenton in the Florida Instructional Program ... Denis was off to a fast start with Cedar Rapids last year and was batting over .300 in May when he suffered a shoulder injury while breaking up a double play ... The accident kept him out of action for over a month and the highly regarded youngster was able to participate in only 89 games ... In the summer of 1958, following his graduation from St. John's High School in Bancroft, every major league organization was represented by scouts or general managers at the Menke household ... He could run, throw, hit and field and soon the Braves had this outstanding prospect in their farm system ... He performed with such success in just one half season with Cedar Rapids and Midland that he was named to the lower classification's National Association All-Star team in 1958.

32 GIGGIE, Bob—Pitcher ... Bob's outstanding pitching for Caguas of the Puerto Rican League during the past winter could make him a very important man in Manager Chuck Dressen's 1960 pitching plans either as a starter or reliever ... He trained with the Braves at Bradenton last spring and his fine showing earned him a spot on the Milwaukee staff ... He spent the season with the Braves and appeared in 13 games as a rookie ... When the season ended, he went to Caguas ... There he pitched brilliantly and won his first five starts (three shutouts).

31 HARTMAN, Bob — Pitcher ... Spent two months with the Braves in 1959, dividing the season between Milwaukee and Louisville ... With Louisville's pennant winners, the Kenosha lefthander did an exceptional job, winning 10 games and losing only three ... Four of his victories were shutouts ... After signing with the Braves in mid-1955, he finished the season with Beaumont ... The next spring he lost over 50 pounds in two months and the doctors discovered he had diabetes ... He won just one game in 1956 and only four the next year ... In 1958, Bob's hard work to control the disease and his great courage paid big dividends as he became the farm system's only 20-game winner while hurling for Atlanta.

Proved he has the ability to win in the big leagues by winning five games in July of 1958 to be voted the National League's Player of the Month ... 34 PIZARRO, Juan — Pitcher ... Has the talent to become one of the majors top southpaws this season ... He pitched brilliantly at times last year while striking out 126 batters in 134 innings and winning six and losing two both as a starter and reliever ... His 12 strikeouts against Pittsburgh July 12th was the season's high for the Braves and was one short of the Milwaukee record set in 1953 by Max Surkont ... He twice fanned 11 in other starts ... His fast ball is one of the game's best and, since beginning his professional career, he has struck out 832 batters in 851 innings ... Only 23 years of age, this fire-balling phenom is one of the greatest prospects in Braves' history.

17 RUSH, Bob — Pitcher ... Used primarily as "long man" in relief latter part of 1959 and pitched exceptionally well ... His 2.41 ERA mark was the lowest on the staff ... His control was remarkable as he walked just 23 batters and permitted only five home runs in the 101 innings he labored ... In his 12 year major league career, "Big Bob" has won 125 senior circuit contests and completed 118 starting assignments while fanning over 1200 batters ... He came to the Braves in a trade with the Cubs in 1957, after spending twelve years at Chicago's Wrigley Field.

20 McMAHON, Don—Pitcher ... One of the major league's outstanding relief pitchers each of his three years as a big leaguer ... Last year he set an all-time Braves' record by making 60 appearances in relief ... He was credited with 17 "saves" in 1959 and in these games he worked 28 $\frac{1}{3}$ innings and allowed only two earned runs, 12 hits and seven walks while fanning 25 ... His ERA was 2.56 for the season and he won three games after August 21st ... He did an exceptional job in both the 1958 and 1957 World Series ... Working in six games against the Yankees, Don allowed only two runs in eight innings and fanned ten ... He joined the Braves in June of the 1957 World Championship year ... From mid-season on, he worked in 32 games with 1.53 ERA to play a most important part in the winning of the pennant ... In 1958, his ERA was 3.66 for 38 appearances ... He was picked to the 1958 N.L. All-Star Game squad ... His "bread and butter" pitch is his fastball.

30 NOTTEBART, Don—Pitcher ... During four of the past five years, an 18-game winner in the Braves' productive farm system ... He gained experience at Quebec and Wellsville before winning 18 games for Wellsville in 1955 ... The next two years he jumped to Evansville and then Atlanta and posted 18 wins each season ... A sore arm and foot trouble plagued him in 1958 and he could win only four games for Wichita ... He was as good as new in 1959 when he again won 18—this time for Louisville ... Since 1955, he has won 76 games and lost 43, and, with the exception of 1958, has worked over 200 innings each season ... His best pitch is a slider.

35 PICHE, Ron—Pitcher ... After five years in the Braves' farm system, this control expert has yet to have his ERA mark go over the 3.00 per game figure ... In addition, he has yet to experience a losing season since entering professional baseball in 1955 ... A sinking fast ball and exceptional control are his more important assets ... At 5' 11, 160, he is built along the lines of Pirate relief ace Elroy Face and, like Face, is strictly a relief pitcher ... He appeared in 53 games for Louisville's league champions last year and fanned 131 in 125 innings while passing only 51 ... The previous season, his first as a relief artist, he worked in 47 games for Jacksonville ... The Canadian has won 62 games and lost 34.

63 OVERBY, Dennis — Pitcher ... The native of Chetek, Wisconsin had one of the finest years ever experienced by a rookie in the Braves' farm system ... He was selected by Nebraska State League managers as the loop's "Outstanding Major League Pitching Prospect" ... He worked only 93 innings after graduating from high school, yet fanned 136 batters to lead the league ... He had individual game strikeout totals of 18, 17, 17, 15, 14, 13 and 12 ... The lefthander's best pitch is a fast ball.

16 WILLEY, Carl — Pitcher ... The N.L.'s Pitching Rookie of the Year in 1958 ... That year he joined the Braves in July and became an immediate sensation ... He won nine games and allowed a total of just nine runs while chalking up the decisions, and, although he was a mid-season acquisition, his four shutouts topped the senior circuit ... Last year he won only five games, but all five victories were complete games ... In 1957, the quiet righthander won 21 games for Wichita and was named the American Association's Most Valuable Player ... Carl hurled a no-hitter for Wichita in 1958 before joining the Braves.

1 CRANDALL, Del — Catcher ... Del's 72 runs batted in last season was an all-time record for a Braves' catcher ... He accomplished the tremendously difficult task of seeing action in 150 games to become the first major league receiver in five years to do so ... The only other catchers active today to match Crandall's feat are Yogi Berra (twice) and Jim Hegan ... In July, he was selected to his sixth N.L. All-Star Game squad in the past seven seasons ... Following the 1959 season, he was selected to the UPI league all-star team ... In 1958, he was named to major league all-star teams chosen by the Baseball Writers of America and the AP and to the N.L. team selected by UPI ... He became a major leaguer at 19 years of age.

*In a four club deal, the Braves obtained pitcher Russ Meyer from the Philadelphia Phillies for first baseman Earl Torgeson, then sent Meyer to Brooklyn for infielder Rocky Bridges and outfielder Jim Pendleton, and then traded Bridges to Cincinnati for Adcock.

11 AVILA, Bobby — Infielder ... Bobby donned a Braves uniform for the first time last July 22nd and hours later stunned Braves' fans by smashing a two-run, ninth-inning homer to give the Braves a come-from-behind 5-4 victory ... From that moment on, he was one of the club's "spark plugs" ... His hits accounted for the winning tally in four other games, including a grand-slam, ninth-inning homer on September 9th that gave Milwaukee a 5-3 victory over St. Louis ... The former American League batting champion should see considerable action in 1960 as an infielder and pinch-hitter.

In 1955, he and Jackie Jensen of the Red Sox drove in 116 runs apiece to tie for the American League RBI title ... 1956 was his best as a home run hitter ... He hit 25 that year.

6 LAU, Charlie — Catcher ... During the 1959 season, this hard-hitting catcher was obtained by the Braves' Louisville farm affiliate ... After he had actually played a few games for the Colonels, he had to be returned to Charleston when a Louisville player in the deal refused to report to the Senators ... When the season ended, the Braves made it official by purchasing his contract from the Senators ... His record last season was outstanding ... He hit 20 home runs and drove in 79 runs in 121 games ... He has always hit the home run and has socked 68 in his six year career ... He was signed by Braves' General Manager, John McHale, in 1952 when McHale served as Detroit Farm Director.

64 ROOF, Phil — Catcher ... Last June, the Braves signed two prospects from Paducah, Kentucky on the same day—Phil Roof, a cousin of Braves outfielder Eddie Haas and infielder Louis Haas, Ed's brother ... Both were sent to the Braves' farm affiliate at Midland where Roof batted .257 ... Right across the river that separates Paducah and Metropolis, Illinois lives another Braves' outfielder—Bob Taylor ... Strangely enough, all four were boyhood friends and they would like nothing better than to play major league ball with the Braves at the same time ... Roof is a well-built, power-hitting receiver who is now a teammate of his boyhood idol—Del Crandall.

9 ADCOCK, Joe — Infielder ... "Big Joe" had a fine year in 1959 ... Playing in only 115 games, he slammed 25 home runs, batted in 76 runs and hit for a .292 average ... He is one of the longest ball hitters ever to play the game ... In 1953, he became the first slugger to ever drive a ball into the centerfield bleachers at the Polo Grounds ... In 1954, he slammed four home runs and a double in one game at Ebbets Field ... In 1956, he became the first player to hit a homer over the double-decked left field stands at Ebbets Field in a regularly scheduled game ... In 1958, at County Stadium, he belted a pitch 470 feet, the ball landing high up among the trees for the longest smash to centerfield since the Braves moved to Milwaukee in 1953.

46 HUNT, Ron — Infielder ... The left side of last year's McCook infield boasted two of the finest major league prospects when Ron played third base alongside Carl Derr at short ... Like Derr, Ron is a fine fielder with an excellent arm, but he will be best remembered by Nebraska State Leaguers as an exceptional clutch hitter ... His 59 hits accounted for 52 RBI's in 62 games ... His bat average was a solid .284 ... He joined McCook in June after graduating from Ritenour High in St. Anns, Missouri, where he was a three sport letter winner.

In addition to his favorite role as a shortstop, he also put in stints as a second baseman, third baseman and outfielder ... When he was not playing regularly, his speed and savvy made him an excellent pinch-runner and his ability to hit the long ball made him a dangerous pinch-hitter ... Although he is only 25 years old, he is already a veteran of four major league seasons and five minor league campaigns ... He began his career at the age of 17 with Evansville in 1952.

41 MATHEWS, Eddie — Infielder ... The "Babe" was simply outstanding last season ... His all-around play was never more brilliant as he won his second major league home run championship by swatting 46 ... In addition, he drove home 114 runs, scored 118 times and collected 182 hits for a batting average of .306 ... He was named to every post-season major league all-star team and finished second to Ernie Banks in the Most Valuable Player Award voting ... When he blasted his final 1959 homer—the 299th of his career—he tied Jimmy Foxx as the youngest player to total that many homers in major league history ... During his eight years with the Braves, Eddie has averaged 37 four-base blows and 97 runs batted in per season ... Voted the Braves' Most Valuable Player last season by the Milwaukee Baseball Writers.

13 COTTIER, Chuck—Infielder ... Chuck is one of the smoothest fielding second basemen in baseball today and if he can improve his hitting, he will be the answer to the Braves' second base situation ... "Chuck has no peer as pivot man on the double play", said Ben Geraghty, his manager at Louisville last season ... He opened the 1959 season with the Braves and, after appearing in ten games, was sent to Louisville for added experience ... He batted a disappointing .226, but the Braves hope he can regain the form that enabled him to hit .269 at Atlanta in 1958 when he made the Southern Association All-Star Team.

23 LOGAN, Johnny—Infielder ... Johnny rebounded from his off-year in 1958 to bat .291 last season and re-establish himself as one of the Braves' most valuable players ... His 137 hits in 138 games included 13 home runs, his second best total as a major leaguer ... Johnny's total of 85 home runs has elevated him to a spot among the Braves' all-time top ten home run hitters ... He has now participated in 1,197 games with the Braves and is the proud possessor of a lifetime batting average of .273 ... In addition, he was the loop's top fielding shortstop three different years ... His errorless fielding and clutch hitting in the 1957 World Series proved extremely helpful in winning the World Championship that year.

24 MAYE, Lee — Outfielder ... Lee was batting .340 and had 79 RBI's in 74 games for Louisville when the Braves decided he was ready for the major leagues last July ... He continued his outstanding work at the plate to hit an even .300 in 51 games against major league pitching and was a regular during the Braves' stretch run for the pennant ... One of the most hustling players to wear a Milwaukee uniform, his ability to run, throw, hit and field should make him an outstanding major leaguer ... Lee is a professional singer during the off-season and has "cut" several records.

43 COVINGTON, Wes — Outfielder ... Wes tore ligaments in his right ankle on August 20th against the Giants and was sidelined for the remainder of the season ... Until the injury, Wes was batting a creditable .279 but had accounted for only seven home runs and 45 runs batted in ... In 1958, he was one of the top sluggers in the senior circuit ... Although he saw action in only 90 games due to injuries, he batted .330, hit 24 home runs and drove in 74 runs ... He gained fame in the 1957 World Series with spectacular catches in the second and fifth games as the Braves copped the world title.

25 SPANGLER, Al — Outfielder ... This fleet-footed outfielder hit for a fine .297 average with Louisville last season and then looked very impressive in six games with the Braves by batting .417 after joining the club in mid-September ... In fact, he has looked impressive in each of his five seasons in the Braves' farm system, having never batted less than .283 during a single season ... After two years of All-America recognition at Duke University, he batted .283 with Jacksonville and Evansville ... He then batted .287 for Jacksonville before entering the military service for two years ... He returned to hit .292 for Wichita and .297 for Louisville ... Besides being a great bunter, Al is a spray hitter with exceptional base-running ability.

26 TAYLOR, Bob — Outfielder-Catcher ... Bob signed a bonus contract with the Braves in 1957 as one of the most sought after high school catchers in the country and spent the remainder of the season with the Braves ... He opened the 1958 season with Jacksonville but soon suffered a minor fracture of his right index finger and was sent to Cedar Rapids ... The injury kept him from working behind the plate but he was able to play the outfield where his running speed and strong arm made him a valuable asset ... In 106 games, he blasted 22 homers, drove in 71 runs and batted .297 ... The outfield became his permanent position at Atlanta last season and in 99 games he again swatted .297, Louisville roster.
